BUYER'S IN-PROCESS AND FINAL SOURCE INSPECTION REQUIRED

Goods and Services under this Contract are subject to Buyer's source inspection at points identified by Buyer throughout the manufacturing process including testing operations, including those at Seller's subcontractor locations, and prior to packaging for shipment.

Seller shall furnish reasonable facilities and assistance, including Contract documentation, quality records, and related data for the safe and efficient performance of Buyer's source inspections.

Upon receipt of this Contract, Seller shall promptly notify Buyer's Supplier Quality Representative (SQR) to identify mandatory Buyer source inspection points. If an SQR does not presently service Seller's facility, Seller shall promptly notify Buyer's Authorized Procurement Representative so an SQR can be assigned.

Seller shall not commence processing or manufacturing in conjunction with this Contract until Buyer's source inspection points are identified, unless specific written waiver or deferral from Buyer's Authorized Procurement Representative directs otherwise.

Seller shall notify the SQR at least 48 hours, unless otherwise specified in Contract, in advance of the time that Goods or Services will be available for Buyer's source inspection.

Seller shall include evidence of Buyer's source inspection with each shipment unless specific written waiver or deferral from Buyer's Authorized Procurement Representative directs otherwise. Any written waiver or deferral shall be included with the shipment.
